Glendale - Utah.
Jan 26. 1930.

Geo. M. Bacon.
State Engineer.
Salt Lake City. Utah.

My Dear Sir:-

I hope you will pardon me for troubling you with our local afairs. But this is one that has confronted the Directors of the Glendale Irrigation Co. for some time During the month of March - 1929. The Board of Directors of said Company levied an assessment - to meet the expence of cleaning and repairing the ditches. again in July an other assessment was made nessary by the rains and floods. neither of the assessments were collected in full. I will say. 1/4. was not paid. Late in the season we had another flood that took our main dam. The Directors estimated it would take between $500 and $700 to replace the old one. Late in September three members of Board met and levied another assessment. to cover the cost of building the dam.

and with out collecting the unpaid delinquent-tax.
The question is. Did they have a Legal right-? Is there a State law against-such?
The Complies by Law's do not-prohibit the levying of assessments when there are delinquent-taxes. Some of our stock holder's contend the State Law does. Will you pleas settle it for ~~us~~ us. Thanking you for any information you can furnish us. We remain very grateful for past-favors.

Glendale Irrigation Co.
Marcellus Johnson
President

P.S.
None of the delinquent-tax payer refused or failed to pay when requested by written notice to so do. The Tax could have been collected in bals, but would not have been sufficient-to meet-the oncoming expense

RECEIVED
JAN 30 1930
State Engineer's Office