State Engineer
Salt Lake City

Dear Sir:

Your Mr German who has given us some splendid service and whom we esteem very highly for his fairness and devotion to duty interpreted this new tentative schedule gotten out by the Engineers Office to mean that after prior rights, secondary rights and consequent appropriations have been supplied, that the succeeding rise in the streams will be prorated among all the respective interests up to a certain amount indicated by figures at the top of each claim as indicated on the schedule.

We here are very short of water particularly in the latter end of the season so that unless we get watered over in the flush there is no hope subsequently in that season.

Some time the flush season is short as in this year and if we were limited to our actual amount and a cold spell set in some one would be pinched and not get their land watered.

The Mayor of our City Joseph Seely who is also the President of the Pleasant Creek Irrigation Co has requested me that I write you and assure you of his personal approval as well as appreciation of your action in the above named particular matter.

Thanking you very cordially

I am respectfully

C. W. Sorensen
