Willard Sept 10. 1931

Dear Mr. Bacon:

The Mill Dam Ditch "Brethren" decided we should not use any more water. I just do not know the date of realization, but I can get it. Mr. Zundel used the water on his beets, and was served with papers to appear in court, and at that time was told to leave the waters alone. Of course if I had taken the water on my pasture after that, I too would have the same trouble

True indeed there are personal rights that do not pertain to the distribution of water whatever. The rights are of personal guards and I dont see why I have to be brought in to the scene with a lot of disagreable men. All I want is the water that belongs to me to use as I need it, not in time of high water and then have a few men tell me to leave it alone, when they want it all. I am disgusted with it all what use is the water to me, if I cannot use it where it is hot and dry. I trust Bro. Balon it can be arranged somehow I am too old a man for, to be going to land over water with a lot of disgruntled men that want every foot of land and every drop of water in their reach. This trouble fairly upsets me Thanks for your letter. I expect to go to Brigham on the 14th of this month, I trust I shall see you there

Yours Truly Mrs. D. C. Hubbard
Charlotte E.
